pecial Dispatch to The Bee. Washington, July 12-1 a. m. The board of visitors, appointed by the president and by the senate and house, to attend the annual examination at the military academy at West Point, have submitted their report, of which the following is a brief synopsis: The board examined the new bospital and find that a further appropriation by congress of $21,618 will be required to complete the buildingr It has been erected in the most substantial manner. The board earnestly recommend an appropriation for its speedy completion. The cadet quarters are insdequate to their proper accommodation, many of the rooms at present being occupied by three cadets, which overcrowds them and is likely to it terfere with health and a proper attention to their studies. The board recommend that congress be asked for an appropriation to extend the west wing of the barracks so as to add thirtytwo rooms The board further rec ommend that a bath house be erected for the use of the cadets.

has not seen or heard of anything in the administration of the discipline by Kittie J, with Emily F second. Special Dispatch to the Bec. which would suggest the propriety of change in the system. The system is purely military, and is the result of many years of close observation and experience of those who from time to time have had charge of the institution, and who appear to have been actuated by the desire to make it efficient in educating and training the cadets for all duties of soldiers and officers. The officers are highly compumented for the condition of the building in all respects. In the judgment of the board the drill merits the highest commendation.

The board are of the opinion that the standard of acquirements as a condition precedent to admission to West Point imposes upon the corps of instructors duties which might as well be performed by the teachers in the common schools throughout the land, but as a consequence of the low standard for admission much valuable time is consumed in purely elementary instructions at an enormous expense to the government, and a needlessly large proportion of the cadets fail to sustain themselves in competition with those who, though short in their academic course, possess sufficient knowledge of those prerequisites, and with a consequent heavy pecuniary loss to the nation, a loss amounting to about $17 50 per annum for each and every cadet. Of the 220 discharged during the pase four years, more than half the number were recommended for dismis al by the academic board, being found deficient in their duty, while many others were from cause forced to resign. The cadets leaving, whether by dismission or resignation, owing to lack of mental capacity or disinclination to keep abreast of their class mates, should not be permitted to return, as in most instances they are a second time deficient.

The board by no means advises such radical change in the standard of admission, as would exclude from the institution all save those who are thoroughly instructed in every branch of preparatory study, but they are strongly of the opinion that the best interests of the service and the truest economy to the country demand that the present standard for admission should be materially raised, or that much severer examinations should compel the candidates for admission to be abulutely proficient in the requirements of the present low standard, greatly below that required in similar European establishments, so that the highest efficiency of the service moy be secured, not only through the character, but by the exact scholarship and through scientific trainings of its officers. The board recommend that the amount annually appropriated for the library be increased to $2000.

The board are of the opinion that the duties of the treasurer and disbursing officers are accurately and efficiently discharged by Major C. N. Barry, also that the quartermaster and commissary departments are managed with credit to all concerned. The board recommend the vigorous enforcement of regulations against the use of tobacco in any shape by the ca-

In conclusion the board expressed its pleasure at the promptness with which the superintendent and the professors and officers connected with the military academy responded to its requests for information to facilitate the labors of its committee.
